

Property Plus

The Sunday
Business Post

October 4, 2015
businesspost.ie

Project Jewel: The old Dundrum SC and the Carlton site are its diamonds in the rough page 20

New this week

* Masters under the hammer P12

* Gardeners go Zoolander P10

property@sbpost.ie

PROPERTY EDITOR TINA-MARIE O'NEILL

Dermot Bannon This year's Open House offers more than 100 tours, events and workshops around the city – and it's all free

Honey Park (above) is a 1930s terrace that has been completely reworked by Robert Bourke Architects using traditional clay bricks and lime mortar. Ste Murray
Barta Martello (above left) is one of two Martello Towers in residential use, having been adapted for contemporary living by Kavanagh Tuite Architects. Philip Lauterbach

A dream for lovers of architecture

I have been making RTE's Room to Improve for the past eight years and one of my favourite parts of the process is when we visit other architect-designed houses and buildings.

“